Choice for going out to stay active, get what you need and do what you love.

WHY

Belonging to a local community, brings joy to everyone. Adding to that, the ability to help and visit others, get some exercise or do your grocery shopping helps maintain connection, mobility and independence.

You might be looking for more fun ways to get around since you have the time, maybe you're less up for walking several blocks unaided, or perhaps you aren't sure you want to be on the road in a car.

There are some good choices for keeping that community connection and getting out and about, and minimising risk or dependence on others. Sometimes if one of you is doing well, these products can allow the other partner to accompany them instead of both staying in.

These can include frames and scooters, fat-tired trikes and e-bikes, or wheelchairs with passenger seats.

You might want to rent or buy, or try it then sell it when you're ready for something new. Make sure you're safe with helmets, and are aware of your capabilities such as balance and the driver's propensity to follow road rules. Accessories include baskets, bells, batteries and you might add a GPS tracker.
